I currently help maintain a tiki site for a charity called The International Community of Women with HIV/AIDS on a voluntary basis. It's been going for close to 2 years now and is growing into a useful resource for the community.

Any help with designing a template for the site will be greatly received.

Also help run a IT support company called RunPCRun where we support Windows and run all our backend on Linux (mostly LAMP)