

Evaluating Tiki

Deeper evaluation

Who makes Tiki? How stable is the project? What are the capabilities of the software? Organizations and companies seeking technical/digital solutions may need to find answers to questions like these. Such organizations include:

- Independent software evaluation firms
- Due diligence by a procurement officer for a public tender
- Government digital services
- Certifications bodies

We are in the process of producing documentation specifically to be available for this type of evaluation. In the meantime, please see our existing documentation and contact us if we can answer any questions.
