

Internal and External Communication

The Shoutbox

The Shoutbox is a module that can be placed in either column of Tiki. It serves as a site-wide Instant Messaging service. Shoutbox is very useful as a means for site participants to communicate with each other.

Internal Messaging

Tikiwiki has its own internal postal service that does not require users to disclose their email.

Newsletters

Want to get a word out to your whole subscriber base? Tiki does that.

IM Chat

Want to set up internal chat boards? Tiki does that too.

RSS feeds

Want to add an rss feed as content into your site - easily done.

E-Mail and XML integration

You can request, post and edit wiki pages by email - how cool is that.
