

Topic

General Description

Articles and submissions are classified in topics, you can edit topics from the admin topics screen. Note: You must create a topic before anyone can submit an article!

In this screen you can add and remove topics or you can activate/deactivate topics without removing them. You can also click the perms link to assign permissions to the topic.

Key Function and sub-features

The permissions for topic works as follows:

- If no permission is assigned to the topic then everybody can read articles or reviews in this topic.
- If the tiki_p_read_topic permission is assigned for the topic only the groups with the permission can view the topic and other users won't see content in the topic (Articles, reviews, etc). This can be used to manage private topics that only users in some groups can read.
