Howdy all, tis me, the Mark here, updating my page here in the great land of TikiWiki.

So, what do I do? Well, I'm the current 'Lord of the Themes' and am working on updating the theme templates, adding new themes, and trying to keep the tikiwiki.sf.net homepage up to w3c XHTML1 compliance.

Now, I'm sure I'll be adding more information as time goes on, but I'm more than likely to do is get a Blog going (wish we could have an option to just call them Journals or something .. I hate the word Blog .. sounds like I need to go to the toilet).

Okay, got my journal going .. check out My Journal for more information.
