

UserPagekemitix

Converting my existing static html website to TikiWiki. Very impressed with it so far, although I'm running into a problem that prevents me from editing anything using my default browser: KdeKonqueror. I keep getting a "no page indicated" error, although it works fine in Mozilla and Opera.

Something I would like is the ability to have the wiki links without having to use StudlyCaps.

Any tips and pointers are always welcome.