

WhiteBoardDev

See JGraphpad CVS Head for this experimental feature.

Gaudenz writes:

"The problem: One client must take the role of the server and open a port where the other clients can connect their diagrams (unless there is some way of letting the Tiki open a server port for a diagram... we do have a server-side graph model without GUI for this purpose). This means you cannot connect to a diagram that's behind a NAT gateway..."