

Au revoir Toggg

sylvie greverend - 17 Jun 2007 14:38 GMT-0000

Toggg left us this night (heart attack). We are so sorry to have lost an open source supporter and a friend.

Toggg (with 3 gs never forget, he was always reminding you this point when you misspelled his name) left us during the night. He was a very nice person with a lot of personality - You certainly remember his frogs, chicken, and his French phrases on IRC. He liked challenge, always ready to solve the difficult bugs, the parser problem.... His last commit on tikiwiki was yesterday. Those days, he was working mainly on spip - a French CMS - and he was happy. I spoke yesterday with him. He was waiting I finished the merge to commit. This was very kind - as usual always taking care of others
He left a wife and 4 children. Condoléances á sa famille.

Merci et Au revoir Toggg

The Tikiwiki team.
