

TikiWiki's Google Summer of Code Projects Confirmed

Nelson Ko - 21 Apr 2009 00:25 GMT-0000

TikiWiki's projects for Google Summer of Code 2009 has been finalized! We received many excellent applications this year, and as it is always the case with these competitions, it is unfortunately not possible to select everyone...

We wish the students that have been accepted all the best in their projects. At the same time, we encourage and extend a heartfelt welcome to those did not get Google Summer of Code places to participate in TikiWiki nonetheless. Many of the project ideas <http://dev.tikiwiki.org/GSOC+Ideas+2009> will continue to happen as the prospective mentors continue to work on them on their own time.

The list of projects accepted is at: <http://socghop.appspot.com/org/home/google/gsoc2009/tikiwiki>
